L.A. in Celebrity Style with Sharon Stone

Have you ever leafed through a magazine marveling at the lifestyles of the rich & famous, yearning for a taste of the real Tinsel Town experience? Well, your time has come. That's fairy dust that just came down from the heavens to transport you to another life...the Red Carpet life. You and your entourage will walk off the plane to be greeted by your own private escort, who will cater to your every need. Lean back, relax and enjoy the sites of the surrounding cityscape and the clink of champagne glasses. You've managed your world, now it's time to see how the other half of California lives. This weekend, the star treatment is all yours....Once you arrive at your 5-star Beverly Hills hotel, you'll sip and sup in luxury, lounge by the pool. The next morning, you'll awake leisurely with a coy smile on your face, anticipating the pampering you're about to enjoy at the spa. No wonder movie stars look so young - steam baths and salt scrubs are the ultimate time machine. Once amply pampered and coiffed, you and your friends are ushered to meet your host for a fabulous luncheon, Sharon Stone, at THE hot spot the showbiz crowd is buzzing about. There's no "snap, crackle, crunch" here, except for the faint sound of camera clicks as you enter the world of "see and be seen". Revel in the bubbly and blintzes. Then a little, "It was fabulous, dahling, kiss, kiss, ta, ta!" before you do the Walk Of Fame and hit the road...Well, actually Rodeo Drive, to be precise. Hasn't it been the day of your dreams? More importantly, isn't the bucket list just a little shorter now?

Restrictions: Enjoy before November 2010

MP&MS 2nd Annual Cookout, PIXAR Movie and Campout!

What's all the buzz about? Did someone say tent party? This IS the stuff of every child's most cherished memories...joining all their MP&MS buddies and favorite teachers Dave DiMartini and Dan Harrison under the stars, enjoying a catered BBQ, roasting marshmallows and telling stories around the roaring campfire. Imagine the field of tents, the flashlight adventures and games with all your best friends from school!

And just to give it a twist in a way that only MP&MS can, this year's campers get to enjoy a super special Pixar movie - outside, under the stars - before they crash in tents, friend's side-by-side, giggling and whispering into the night. These campers are sure to wake up early (but that's OK, because mom and dad get to sleep in)! Then they get to enjoy some yummy morning grub and the memories to last a lifetime. Don't let your child miss this event, sure to be an MP&MS favorite for years to come...

For those younger folks, who may not want to stay for the overnight campout...have no fear. You can still join the fun! 40 lucky dogs get to just come for the Cookout and the super special Pixar movie! There's still loads of fun to be had while the sun is out, the grub is flowin' and the movie's playin'...then head home to a softer bed, no doubt.

Restrictions: Overnight for students entering 2nd through 8th grades. Camp Out only suited for JK and above. Date: TBD, but likely end of September 2010. Only 25 lucky kids will sleep in tents under the stars the overnight, and 40 more lucky dogs will get to join in the cookout and movie. Perfect for the younger (or less brave).

A Rock and Roll Evening

Hosts: Tom and Leslie Dietz with Lynda and Knud Balslev and Shannon Mong and Ethan Russell

Date: Saturday, Oct. 23rd

Time: 7:00pm $125/person

of guests: 40 people

Enjoy an evening with acclaimed music photographer, Ethan Russell, as he shares recollections and photography from the Rolling Stones' 1969 "Let It Bleed" tour. The tour began with a disparate group of sixteen travelers gathered in a Los Angeles hilltop home. Five of them were the Rolling Stones. In the waning days of the sixties they crisscrossed America, a band on tour and the intimate cadre that supported them, eventually arriving among a chaotic crowd of 400,000 at Altamont Speedway. There the tale unraveled into violence - a man was stabbed to death and a dangerously overloaded helicopter carried the remains of the entourage away. Russell was there from beginning to end, photographing every facet of life on the road. A limited edition oversized book of the tour (420 beautifully hand sewn pages) will be randomly given to one of the guests (value $650). More information about Russell's book and photography can be found at www.ethanrussell.com. Select wines and appetizers will accompany this very special evening. If you love rock n roll this event is not to be missed!

The Zoo Class Treasure is a mixed media "Heart" themed piece made with wood. Each child decorated an individual heart with his or her name on it, which was then adhered to a wood tile backing in a grid formation. The entire piece is mounted and ready for framing and placement in a child's room to commemorate their year with their friends in the Zoo Class of 2009-2010.

Barn Class Treasure

Add this lovely treasure to your garden to commemorate your child's last year of pre-school. This copper embossed heart is ideal as outdoor art in your garden or even hanging under a mailbox. Each copper piece was uniquely designed and decorated by the children of the Barn, and then assembled together into one fantastic statement of love, and inspiration. Imagine strolling through your garden year after year and remembering the special friends and amazing times our children had in the Barn. Heart is 24" in diameter.

Junior Kindergarten Class Treasure

The JK Class Treasure is a reflective thought piece. Since every student in the JK class is 5 years old, we asked each of them to think about what they wanted to be when they grew up. The children discussed this question in circle time with their teachers. After reflection, each student created a picture using boldly colored shapes of himself/herself doing 'what they want to be' when they grow up. The result is a unique, colorful and personalized collection of artwork by a creative group of JK students. All of their work is framed in a modern black and white gallery frame.

Kindergarten Class Treasure

The Kindergarten's class treasure is a vibrantly-colored Heart of MP&MS, constructed from paper mache and wrapped in the childrens' watercolors and photographs. The kids have each painted their own self-portrait and the resulting Heart is truly a collaborative work of art depicting the children as they see themselves - joyful and colorful.

First Grade Class Treasure

A Garden of Love: Presenting the First Grade Heart-from their hearts and hands to yours. This beautiful three-dimensional heart is covered in felted wool, adorned with hand-made wool and silk flowers, and sprinkled with semi-precious stones, reminding us of the beauty and sparkle we see each day in our children. These talented First Graders used a 4,000 year-old wool felting technique to shape scrumptious wool flowers and stems. For more delicate petals, they painted pieces of silk chiffon, using a wet-on-wet watercolor technique. These lovely textiles were then felted onto the sculpture, adorning this "mossy" wool heart with an abundance of color and texture. Precious. Enduring. Heartfelt. A heart for your home; always in bloom, always overflowing with love! P.S. See if you can find the two mystery ingredients. Clue-it's the key to your heart.

Second Grade Class Treasure

The Second Graders Class Treasure is a three-part project. The children worked in three different groups to create three birdhouse treasures: The URBAN Birdhouse, in grey tones The SUBURBAN Birdhouse, in pastels The RURAL Birdhouse, in earth tones. All three birdhouses are constructed out of wood with waterproof paints and finishes. So, all of them will be able to "take on the elements" to provide safe and stylish living for our feathered friends.

Weekend Retreat in the Russian River

This cabin in the hills of Occidental is magical with or without children. Nestled among giant redwoods with a magnificent view of the mountains, this modern, open-plan cabin is a luxurious retreat for you, and a fantasyland for children. Approximately an hour and a half drive from Larkspur, the home comfortably sleeps 8 people. There are two bedrooms with queen size beds, each offering complete privacy. Another bedroom has two bunk beds. The cabin has all new appliances, fireplace, and is comfortably furnished. There is a large deck off the main floor where you can enjoy meals, and balconies off each of the upstairs bedrooms. The grounds are expansive and include a large yard with zip-line, swimming pool, hot tub and hammock. Enter the wooded area of the property and there are hidden delights: two huge teepees made entirely of branches and leaves, a tree house large enough for several children to sleep in, a campfire site, a great climbing rock, streams and a new pond, as well as several trails to explore the forest. Situated midway between Santa Rosa and Bodega Bay, Occidental makes a superb base for exploring the many charms of western Sonoma County. Nearby attractions include a Japanese-inspired spa, garden nurseries, antique stores, fine restaurants, Russian River Wineries, Armstrong Redwoods State Reserve and the wild, beckoning coast. This is for one weekend. Advance reservations required.

Restrictions: Must use by 3/27/2011. Must arrange at least 3 weeks prior. Availability based on owners schedule.

"Luke, I AM Your Father..." Star Wars Party

Date: Sunday, June 13th

Time: TBD

$25/kid

of kids: 150

"Come young Jedi, let me show you the ways of the force..." Just imagine! A Star Wars party for up to 150 Star Wars fanatics! The children all converge at the MP&MS blacktop area to practice the fine art of lightsaber dueling with two professional actors, dressed as Jedi Masters. The Jedi Masters provide robes to a lucky 12 young Jedis who will compete in a Star Wars Dueling Contest - the winner determined by the applause of the crowd! Afterwards, the children, all dressed in their favorite Star Wars costumes from home, will parade to our own Lark Theatre in Larkspur for a special screening of a favorite Star Wars movie. But first, as they cross the threshold into the den of the next galaxy, they collect door prizes - Legos? Lightsabers? Whatever the toy, the ultimate prize is the look of joy on your little Clone Troopers face. Don't miss out or you may find an Ewok under your bed.

Restrictions: Children must be accompanied by either mom, dad or Yoda. Coordinator will email all Ewoks and Clone Troopers the exact time of the party after auction. May the Force be with you. No host concession available at The Lark!

ANTI-AGE MULTI-FUNCTION EYE CREAM ANTI-AGE Multi-Function Eye Cream is clinically proven to minimize crow's feet, dark under-eye circles, and puffiness. Heralded as a Skin Miracle Worker by Lucky Magazine. 15 mL/0.5 Fl.Oz. MAXIMUM D3® VITAMIN D SUPPLEMENT You have heard us preach that limiting sun exposure and wearing a broad-spectrum sunscreen is the key to maintaining healthy, radiant, youthful-looking skin. However, Vitamin D, which is essential for bone health and overall wellness, is created when the body absorbs the sun's UV rays. Since we are committed to helping everyone achieve healthy skin and a healthy life, we offer Maximum D3, an oral supplement of the most absorbable form of Vitamin D. As the sun's damaging rays can exacerbate the symptoms associated with a variety of skin conditions including acne, sensitivity, hyper-pigmentation, and skin aging, Maximum D3 is our recommended supplement to any Rodan + Fields Multi-Med Therapy regimen. Write Your Skin a Prescription for Change

Product Description The doctors are in and ready to answer your questions. In this straight-talking, optimistic book, Write Your Skin a Prescription for Change, renowned dermatologists Dr. Katie Rodan and Dr. Kathy Fields passionately draw on forty years of combined clinical experience to offer you what they give their patients -- sound clinical and lifestyle advice for a future of healthy, beautiful skin. Their perspective is compelling and will inspire the choices that can help you look and feel your best today, tomorrow, and well into the future. Whether you are 18 or 81, it's never too late to change your skin's destiny. Their patients are their inspiration. They've witnessed the transformation in confidence and self-esteem a person goes through as she gains control over frustrating skincare issues and knows her skin looks great. Their goal with this book is to extend their patient privilege to you by offering the best skincare solutions straight from their offices. They want everybody to experience their best skin ever; as the saying goes, "it's easier than you may think." Informative, empowering, and interactive, Write Your Skin a Prescription for Change will become your go-to guide for taking control of your skin's destiny. So, if you're wondering why you have acne at forty, how to treat a red, sensitive patch on your cheek, or what the latest procedure is to get rid of a wrinkle, this is your comprehensive resource. Based on Dr. Rodan's and Dr. Fields' expertise, shared through case studies, lists, charts, interactive exercises, and insider tips, you will learn: How to assess your complexion like a dermatologist? What the most common skincare concerns are and options for treatment? How to combat the key aging culprits? How to reverse sun damage and restore a healthy, clear, even-toned complexion? About the latest cosmetic procedures and if they are right for you? When to self-treat and when to visit a dermatologist Write Your Skin a Prescription for Change gives you "on-call" access to the skincare savvy of two of the country's top dermatologists. Their advice will help you make wise choices, improving the way you look and feel tomorrow, next year, and well into the future.

Six Bottles of "Pott Wine"

ST. RALPH THE LIAR Vineyard Name: White Cottage Ranch Owners: Dennis & Adele Johns
Appellation: Howell Mountain Location: The historic White Cottage Ranch is located on White Cottage Road at College in Angwin. Landscape: Varied gentle slopes to steep slopes with tall pines and nesting hawks. Soil Type: Aiken Series made from volcanic debris with high iron content and Boomer Series. These soils formed in material weathered from mixed igneous rocks. Varietals: Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc. Climate: A cool, almost alpine feel with warmer nights than the valley floor. Well above the fog layer. Snow sometimes in winter. Particular Farming Methods: Farming directed by talented winemaker Dennis Johns and Carlos Mendez. A very smart trellising system perfected by Carneros Merlot pioneer and cowboy raconteur, Abbott Williams. Story of St. Ralph the Liar My first visit to Dennis Johns at the White Cottage Ranch was an icy one, both the weather and the reception. It was a cold clear day in January, and high on Howell Mountain at the vineyard (2000 feet in altitude) it was even colder. I had just taken over the winemaker/general manager post at St. Clement after years of groovy jet setting as Beringer's International Winemaker of Mystery. Dennis, the owner of White Cottage Ranch, had been winemaker at St. Clement for the previous 20 years, defining the reputation of the winery with his unique style. But when Beringer (St. Clement's parent company) was itself bought out by Australian beer giant Fosters, Dennis moved on bored – I suspect – by the intervention of the new owners and their grand plans. But St. Clement still had a grape contract with White Cottage Ranch and I had tasted the fabulous wines that Dennis had made from the property. So I was determined that day to maintain the grapes as a source for the long term and to do that I had to woo him a little, convince him that I would handle his grapes as they deserved to be treated. Dennis is the kind of guy that can smell 'BS' a mile off, so he was wary at first. But we took a huge hike around his vineyard, intensely discussing our wine and other philosophies, and he slowly warmed up. The sculpted vineyards are covered with two of Napa Valley's most coveted soils, the Aiken series that locals call "Red Gold" for the outstanding quality of the wines that it produces and the Boomer series, soils known for their complex aromatic wines. From rolling hills to towering slopes, vines intermingle harmoniously with the surrounding ponderosa pines where numerous hawks cry, guarding their nests. My excitement about the White Cottage Ranch was clear, I got the contract and proved good to my word when the wines were released. I was deeply honored when Dennis even exclaimed that my 2001 was the best he had ever tasted from the property. Since then, an air of mutual respect and artistic collaboration has flourished. That first meeting forged a friendship that continues well beyond the close of my own experience with 'Big Wine' and has allowed me to buy grapes for Pott Wine from this stunning vineyard. But sadly, 2007 will be the last vintage of this epic wine as Dennis and Adele sold the property this year for an incredible sum and plan to retire on three nearby small lakes with fishing rods firmly planted in their hands. May the quality of the catch be equal to that of the harvest!
